About our speaker:

Dr Conor Davidson is a consultant psychiatrist and clinical lead of the Leeds Autism Diagnostic Service. Before joining LADS fulltime in 2020, Conor was autism lead for Tees, Esk & Wear Valley NHS trust. The TEVV autism project launched a large scale training program and the autism Clinical Link Pathway; its achievements were recognised with a National Autistic Society award in 2019. Conor has published a number of journal articles and book chapters with a particular focus on autism and mental health. Conor is a lifelong Leeds United supporter, which – after many years of disappointment – is finally starting to pay off.

Dr Sarah Cassidy is an Assistant Professor at the University of Nottingham. She currently leads a research program aiming to understand mental health problems, suicidal thoughts and suicidal behaviours in autistic people. She works in partnership with the Autistic community and those who support them to identify research priorities, and campaign for changes to policy and practice, in order to better understand and prevent mental health problems and suicide in autism.
