Workshop

On Call Situations & Challenges

Monday 26th April 2021

Virtual Event via Zoom

9.15am Login, 9.30am Welcome and 4.15pm, Close

One of the joys of psychiatry is the wide range of potential careers and areas of specialty. After sampling what is on offer we tend to focus on a particular area and hone our expertise. However, this does present us with a challenge when on-call as we face this vast array of specialty areas without our usual sources of support.

This day is chaired by Dr Guy Brookes, Consultant Psychiatrist, Leeds and York Partnership NHS Foundation Trust along with a team of expert speakers. The workshop includes talks and case discussion that aim to cover many of the more interesting potential situations to leave you better prepared for the night ahead.

After attending this course, delegates will be able to:

- Hear from practitioners whose day-to-day work covers challenging areas.
- Discuss experience and opinions with peers.
- Feel better prepared for unpredictable on-call work
