Masterclass

Brain Injury in Mental Health Services

How Neuropsychiatric Presentations lead to revolving door presentations in Mental Health Services and how to address that.

Thursday 18 November 2021

Virtual Event via Zoom

12.15pm Registration, 12.30pm Welcome and 4.30pm, Close

The purpose of this talk is to increase awareness of Brain Injury related presentations in the mainstream Mental Health Services and discuss the possible interventions in these settings. We will also look to understand challenging presentations in Brain Injury that do not easily fit into mainstream psychiatric treatment settings. The main areas covered will be an overview of different types of Brain Injuries and presentations, classification of Brain Injury severity and outcome, clinical presentations and comorbidities, role of Mental Health Act and DoLS in Brain Injury Preventions, Capacity Assessment, Anosognosia and Capacity to Consent and overview of Pharmacological and non-pharmacological interventions.

After attending this course delegates will be able to :

- Increase understanding of clinical presentations of patients with brain injury under their care
- Consider appropriate Mental Health legislation when treating Brain Injury patients
- Address service level interventions to avail appropriate care

About our speaker:

Dr. Rogish has worked in the UK in neurorehabilitation for over 16 years specialising in acquired brain injury and challenging behavioural presentations. He has worked in the UK in neurorehabilitation continually in both post-acute and neuropsychiatric settings. He has also taught on the Clinical Psychology (DClinPsy) training program at the University of Hull. Prior to this he worked in the USA in neuropsychology specialising in acquired brain injury, epilepsy and cognitive neuroscience, gaining a PhD in Clinical Psychology with a specialisation in neuropsychology from the University of Florida. He is now a consultant clinical psychologist working in neuropsychology with the Disabilities Trust and an associate lecturer at the University of York on their MSc in Developmental Disorders and Clinical Practice.

Dr. Elanjithara completed his core Psychiatry training at the Guys Kings and St Thomas' scheme and completed Speciality training at the Barts rotation. He has been associated with the Institute of Psychiatry, Neuroscience- Psychosis Studies for research. He is now working with the Disabilities Trust as Consultant Neuropsychiatrist at the brain injury rehabilitation hospital York House. He is also the medical lead in the North Yorkshire Adult & ASD ADHD NHS Partnership service. His research and clinical interests are in the fields of neuroscience, cognitive and executive function interventions.
