Workshop

Student Mental Health

What's happening why it's happening and what you can do to help

Wednesday 18 November 2020

The Met Hotel, King Street, Leeds, LS1 2HQ

9am Registration, 9.30am Welcome and 4.30pm, Close

University/Medical School is a very different experience from 20 years ago; Students have a constant pressure to perform, be their best self, and compete at all levels. Mental distress has risen as more young people struggle to keep up with the demands of their busy lives whilst dealing with complex issues, including mental illness. Delegates will build their confidence to understand; what mental health in young people can look like, what to say to be supportive and show compassion, how to be of practical support, whilst also learning about how best to look after their own mental health and wellbeing in challenging times. They will have the opportunity to interact and ask questions as well as discuss case studies together, taken from Dominique's vast experience of young adult care. Students will learn about their own wellbeing, and staff about how to care for students and themselves.

After attending this course delegates will be able to...

- Recognise behaviours and feelings to watch out for in themselves or others
- Know when and how to ask for support and get help
- Understand better the pitfalls of modern studying and how to manage or overcome them

About our speaker:

Dr Dominique Thompson: GP, Author, TEDx Speaker and Student Mental Health Expert, Buzz Consulting

Dr Thompson is a GP, young people's mental health expert, TEDx speaker, author and educator, with over 20 years of clinical experience caring for students, including as a police and expedition doctor, and most recently as Director of Service at the University of Bristol Students' Health Service. It was for this work that she was named Bristol Healthcare Professional of the Year 2017. Dominique has helped design apps to support student mental health, and is the author of the Student Wellbeing Series of books. She has been interviewed widely, including by the Guardian and Radio 4's Today programme. Her TEDx talks include "What I learnt from 78,000 GP consultations with university students" highlighting possible causes behind the recent rise in young people's mental health distress, and "Understanding the Why" suggests ways in which everyone can better support the younger generation. She is a Clinical Advisor for NICE, the Royal College of GPs, and for Student Minds, the UK's student mental health charity. She was the GP member of the NICE Eating Disorders' guidelines development group, and the Universities UK StepChange and Minding Our Future committees, as well as the Office for Students' Challenge Fund advisory panel. Dominique is also a member of the UK Mental Wellbeing in Higher Education group (MWBHE). In 2019 she was nominated as one of the Top 100 West Women of the Year.
