

Managing PTSD

The Mental Health of Armed Forces Veterans Services and Experiences

Tuesday 14 September 2021

Virtual Event via Zoom

5.45pm Registration/Login, 6.00pm Welcome and 8.00pm, Close

The provision of treatment, care and support for Military Veterans with mental health and related problems has been varied across the UK and the regions; it is provided by numerous statutory and third sector organisations. Navigating healthcare and support systems is complicated enough for professionals and represents a significant challenge for Veterans in terms of identifying and accessing appropriate services. Over the last few years, NHS England has invested in dedicated mental health services for Veterans which align with NICE guidelines for the treatment of military related trauma (PTSD) and The Armed Forces Covenant.

After attending this course delegates will be able to....

- Understand the mental health challenges faced by Military Veterans.
- Identify PTSD symptoms and refer appropriately
- Understand more about treatment pathways for PTSD

About our speaker:

Lawrence has worked as a Psychiatrist at LYPFT for over 20 years in a variety of different mental health sub-specialities. In addition to his work in the NHS, Lawrence was a Civilian Medical Officer for the Territorial Army/Army Reserve (TA) for approximately 15 years. He worked primarily for the Second Division of the TA at Barracks across the North of England in Leeds, York and Catterick providing Occupational Medical Services to serving soldiers and new recruits to the forces. From 2017 onwards, Lawrence has been involved in developing and providing the Veterans Mental Health Complex Treatment Service (VMH CTS North), commissioned by NHS England. VMH CTS operates throughout England and aims to provide treatment to Veterans with service attributable mental health difficulties. In the last 18 months, he has also been involved in developing and providing a Veterans Mental Health High Intensity Service (VMH HIS North) which provides support and treatment to ex-forces personnel who are currently in-patients or in contact with local community mental health crisis services. Lawrence is currently the Clinical Lead for VMH CTS (North) and VMH HIS (North), services provided by Leeds & York Partnership NHS Foundation Trust in conjunction with other NHS provider and third sector Veterans organisations.
